

Why E-Learning Tools?

The Religious Education department is enthusiastic about using e-Learning as a part of pedagogy at Sacred Heart Girls College. This will help student learning by increasing opportunities and engagement.

- Teachers can continue to add content / links in response to student questions and requirements.
- Huge opportunities to "open up" learning to students who don't have all or part of the traditional academic skill set, especially when combined with the interactive power of the modern tablet. For example there is an opportunity to conference with your teacher online.
- It's going to enable guided use of the Internet. We can more easily direct students to make use of the many resources that are out there.
- Making use of technology is actually part of the New Evangelisation.
- Engaging - when we are at school, look forward to an exciting future.
- Watching a video clip is now part of what we call a flipped classroom.
- We envision the website helping to break down the artificial barrier between 'units' of work. Hopefully, teaching and learning becomes truly 'catholic' (katholikos - from the Greek, meaning 'throughout the whole').
